WICHITA GAS LIGHT CO.

Niederlander is still adding to his collection of farm products to be sent to the St. Louis exposition. Yesterday he secured a basket of very large and fine grapes, and a huge watermelon that weighed a trifle over seventy pounds. It was as large as a small barrel.

Mr. Cooper's horse, which was so badly cut to pieces by being run into a barbed wire fence some weeks ago, has been handled very carefully by its owner, and as a consequence its wounds are slowly healing, and the animal may be as good as ever in a few weeks, though it will be pretty badly scarred.

There is now quite a rush to the county treasury by people who are yet in arrears on their taxes for 1885, as all property upon which taxes remain unpaid will be sold next Tuesday. Our readers who may be behind in this respect should attend to the matter at once, and save themselves trouble and expense.

We have heard quite a number of our citizens express a determination to attend the state fair which will begin at Topeka on Sept. 8, and no doubt this county will be well represented. The fair this year promises to be better than it has ever been heretofore, and the products and stock that will be exhibited will be worth seeing.

The concert given yesterday morning by Walter's Union Square theater band, at the intersection of Douglas and Main, was listened to and hugely enjoyed by a large crowd. Though the band is a small one, it rendered several difficult pieces in a most satisfactory manner, and makes up in ability what it lacks in numbers.

An excursion train of twenty-one cars from Indiana reached Kansas City Tuesday morning. The excursionists mostly came west to see the fair. Quite a number of them reached Wichita Wednesday night, some of whom went on to Kingman and other points. It is quite probable that they will invest money before returning east.

Some of the largest and finest watermelons that we have ever seen are now being brought to this market. Some of our eastern readers may accuse us of exaggerating things a little, but S. L. Russell brought to the city a wagon load of these melons yesterday, the largest of which weighed over sixty pounds, and they were fine ones, too.

A stranger from Indiana, in passing up Douglas avenue yesterday, had his attention attracted by some very fine fruit displayed in a grocery window. Stepping up to the basket he picked up the largest sample, turned it over in wondering admiration, and remarked to the clerk: "By Joe, those are mighty large and fine melons." "Oh, yes," replied the astonished clerk, "those are peaches."

Hon. Samuel R. Peters, the member of congress from this district, addressed the people at the Harvest jubilee on the Clearwater yesterday, returning to this city last evening. The speech is said to have been by those who heard it, broad and comprehensive, covering many of the questions now agitating the country and dealing with them in a spirit of honest fearlessness. Mr. Peters is speaking now every day in filling engagements made for him by the state central committee.

E. T. Osborn, of Mulvane, made us a pleasant call yesterday. Mr. Osborn commenced to take the Eagle on the day the first number was issued, and has read it ever since, but he concluded he would have to stop and take the daily, which he ordered, commencing with this morning. Mr. Osborn paid us the compliment to say that he for years considered the weekly bird the best inland paper that he had any knowledge of. Mulvane is improving right along, among other things the Odd Fellows are erecting a fine building.

We saw numerous samples of peaches on street yesterday, which were far ahead of what we had dreamed of, and describing them for fear of being accused of economy of the truth. But it is to be hoped that some one will preserve a few of the finest, and send them where they can be compared with the productions of other parts of the country, and let other people tell the results. Even the lot of these peaches would compare favorably in size with the peaches of most any other country.

Many of the older residents of the city were surprised yesterday morning to see upon the streets the familiar face and form of ex-mayor John G. Hope. We say familiar, his face was but his body was lighter and he seemed considerably aged. He says himself and Mrs. Hope have enjoyed good health in Mexico as they did formerly. As for Wichita Mr. Hope says it is the boss and the day of all the towns and cities in the west, that he has any knowledge of, and that in his opinion Wichita is destined to become a city in all that that term signifies. As for Mexico and Colorado and the mining towns of the Rockies none of them show the life and prosperity of Wichita.

The excursion train to the Harvest Home picnic at Clearwater pulled away from the Ft. Scott depot yesterday morning at a little after 8 o'clock. The train was loaded with a large delegation of people of this city, headed by the Wichita band, closely followed by a number of leading politicians and candidates, who took advantage of this occasion for electioneering purposes. On arriving at the depot in Clearwater the majority of the excursionists were conveyed to the grove where the picnic was to be held, where they spent a very pleasant day. There was speech making, amusements, a basket dinner and other features contributing to the enjoyment of the occasion. Everyone reports having had a fine time.

The Butler pole-raising on the corner of Emporia and Douglas avenues yesterday afternoon, attracted to that vicinity a large number of the people of this city, and at about 3 o'clock the pole was placed in position. It stands nearly opposite the Tremont hotel, and is a very fine one, being over seventy feet in height. Near the top is a large flag; above it a handsome banner bearing the words "Butler and West," and at the extreme top is a very large sized spoon. It was dedicated by three cheering crowds, after which the crowd adjourned to the grove south of town on Emporia avenue, where free soup was served in liberal abundance by Wilson & Company. This is the largest and nicest pole in the city, and is a credit to the gentlemen who are responsible for its erection.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—D. Van Buren, a business man of Chicago, is in the city.

—Joe W. Summers, of St. Joe, was on the streets yesterday.

—J. O. Whittier, of Eldorado, came up to Wichita last evening.

—T. B. McLean, of Oskosh, Wis., registered at the Tremont yesterday.

—Mr. J. E. Platter, of Winfield, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams.

—N. Campbell, a business man of Wellington, was on the streets yesterday.

—Mrs. Frank Fisher is home again after a prolonged but pleasant visit among friends in Ohio.

—Miss Fanny Jackson went to Danville, Harper county, yesterday to visit friends for a couple of weeks.

—Mrs. H. D. Eiserman and Mrs. Tracy drove out to Mr. Hope yesterday, where they will have a few days with friends.

—J. C. Kelley came in from Harper yesterday. He reports that town increasing in population, and says that business is reviving.

—Rev. J. R. McQuowen, of Mulvane, was in the city yesterday. He reports his town improving, and the fruit and crop looking well.

—Mr. George Boddy and wife are off for Eureka Springs, Arkansas, for the remainder of the season, to which point the DAILY EAGLE has been ordered.

—Our old friend, Wichita's old friend, in truth, the man who counts his friends by the thousands in this county, Miss E. Kellogg, of Kingman, was in the city yesterday afternoon.

—J. A. P. Ten Eyck, a prominent business man of Topeka, arrived in the city yesterday, accompanied by his wife. We understand that he contemplates purchasing property here.

—J. L. McMillan, the Douglas avenue barber, returned yesterday from Wellington, and reports the arrival at his house in that city of a bounding baby boy. Mother and child are doing well.

—Jos. McKnight, representing William Blair & Co., the oldest and largest wholesale hardware house in Chicago, arrived in our city last night. Mr. McKnight has concluded to make our city his headquarters. He says he will call often and regular on our merchants.

—J. E. Shaw, postmaster at Mulvane, came up to Wichita yesterday. He says that W. C. Dryden is erecting a handsome new brick business house, the first one built in that city. He further says that Mulvane is going to have a new elevator for handling grain.

—D. P. Alexander returned Tuesday evening from quite a lengthy visit to his old home in Belleville, Ill., where he had a very pleasant time. He also made a business visit to St. Louis and several other points. He says that the people of Illinois are enthusiastic for Blaine and Logan, and will give the Republican state and national tickets large majorities this fall. Carter Harrison spoke at Belleville while Alexander was there, bringing with him a hundred picked men and torch-light procession from Chicago, but though the demonstration was fine, the people were not changed in their views on national affairs. Crops in Missouri and Illinois are very poor, compared to those of Kansas, and it is little wonder that there is a heavy emigration to the west.

AN IMPORTANT NEWSPAPER CHANGE.

News reached this city this evening of an important newspaper change, which affects our neighbors of Sumner county. The Hon. Jacob Stotler, for twenty-five years editor of the Emporia News, has been interested in that office and purchased the Sumner County Press, one of the oldest and most successful papers in southern Kansas. For twenty-five years in sunshine and shadow has Mr. Stotler faithfully worked for the up-building of the fair city of Emporia; for a quarter of a century has all his energies, his best thoughts and even hard-earned savings been devoted to the one aim of making Emporia a leading city of the state, and now, after the realization of his highest wishes in that direction, he casts his lot with a new people. Wellington is to be congratulated and Emporia commiserated.

COMANCHE COUNTY.

To the Editor of the Daily Eagle: Since my return from the west, I have been asked a great many questions about the above-named county, and by your kind inquiries, covering many of the questions now agitating the country and dealing with them in a spirit of honest fearlessness. Mr. Peters is speaking now every day in filling engagements made for him by the state central committee.

E. T. Osborn, of Mulvane, made us a pleasant call yesterday. WELLINGTON NOTES.

Mr. H. B. Williams, superintendent of the Sumner County Agricultural and Mechanical association, and one of the largest stock raisers and farmers in Sumner county, is in the city to-day commencing his fall work on the preparation of the ground before the fair commences, September 17, 18, 19, and 20. It was my good fortune to see him to-day, and learn his plans, which are about as follows:

"We will build an amphitheatre, that will be sheltered by a shingle roof, and seat 1,500 people. Under the seats will be ten closed boxes similar to those at Kansas City and St. Louis. An additional wing, 20x70 feet will be added to Floral hall. Twenty additional horse stalls, making one hundred in all, will be built. The cattle stalls will be remodeled and made superior to any in the state without exception. The number of hog and sheep pens which is already large will be doubled. The race track which is now conceded to be the best half mile track in Kansas, will be put in perfect order. The track will be entirely fenced, and from the amphitheatre every inch of any race can be seen by the spectators without raising for a hair's breadth. This fall it is our intention to make the Sumner county fair second to no county organization in the state. While it may not pay us for the outlay at present, we are not afraid to risk our money in an enterprise that will surely pay in the near future."

Luke Herring, the great printer of this city, who has charge of the Sumner County Press for the past two years, leaves to-day for Dallas, Texas. Luke leaves a host of friends in this city who greatly regret his going away.

Vol. F. Moore, clerk of the circuit court, and Geo. Gardner, county attorney of Butler county, arrived in the city last evening, and gave the full-fledged a pleasant call.

To introduce the Williamson's pool outfit more thoroughly in this market, and that each lady may test and demonstrate its superiority for herself, we will present, free of charge, to any lady that will call and mention this ad, one spoon of this cotton during Thursday, Friday and Saturday.
